COVID-19: AUGUST 13th UPDATE
to the Chebeague Community

It is August and our friends and neighbors who come this month have just arrived. Chebeague has come together since March 13th when the State of Maine moved into lock-down in the face of the coronavirus. We’ve learned what to do to protect each other. Maine is holding relatively steady in the face of the pandemic but many of our annual events and traditions are out. Masks and social distancing are in. So is outdoor activity, lots of hand washing and sanitizing, and creative ways to safely work, live, and enjoy the sunny days of Summer on Chebeague. We welcome those returning. This newsletter is an update to the Chebeague Island community with information on how the island has adapted with new Covid-19 practices to help keep us safe during this unprecedented “Time of Covid.”

Latest News

(This update is from the Town of Chebeague and the Community Response Action Team (CART) a Town Committee of volunteers representing the Town, School, Church, and various non profits. The Covid-19 Update can be found on the Town website www.townofchebeague.org, Bev’s website www.chebeague.org under the tab “COVID-19” and, the new ChebWeb www.chebweb.com, as well FaceBook. For a hard copy email: townofchebeaguecovid19@gmail.com.)

Chebeague Covid Testing Team (CCTT) Chebeague’s own Covid-19 testing team went into action at the beginning of July. The CCTT is here to stop an outbreak. A video overview of the service is linked here. Staffed by 6 medical professionals and led by Dr. Jim Cox-Chapman, Dr. Kip Webb and Jenny Hackel, R.N., you can be tested right here on the island and learn your results without leaving the island. Testing is for people who are high-risk as defined by 1) you think you have been exposed (within 6 feet, for more than 10 minutes, especially without a mask or indoors) to someone with a positive-case of Covid-19, or 2) you do not feel well and have Covid-19 symptoms. To contact the CCTT team, just send a text message to the team’s pager at 347-656-7524. All conversations, testing and follow-up are strictly voluntary and confidential. Click here for Frequently Asked Questions about on-island testing.

State of Emergency The State of Maine and Chebeague Island are still in a State of Emergency into September. While we have an overall encouraging Covid-19 downward profile compared to many other states, Governor Mills extended the State of Civil Emergency on August 5th to face the global pandemic of Covid-19. Chebeague Island also remains in a State of Emergency, with Town Administrator, Marjorie Stratton serving as the Emergency Director with support from the Chebeague Fire and Rescue Chief Ralph Munroe and our elected Board of Selectmen.

August 2020 Community Survey on Covid All Chebeaguer, from near and far, are encouraged to participate in a survey regarding Chebeague Island and Covid-19. You may access the 5 minute survey here or contact the Town Office 846-3148, or Erika Neumann at: townofchebeaguecovid19@gmail.com to obtain a hard copy or answer the survey over the phone. We want to hear from you about how we are faring so far, and how we can improve the way we work together in the future.

Keeping Maine Healthy Grant Chebeague successfully secured funding from the State of Maine and the federal CARES Act, to support the Covid-19 efforts to keep the island safe from the coronavirus. The Town received approximately $65,000 for personal protection equipment, supplies and emergency Covid-19 support. In addition, the grant aims at increasing public education and information about safe practices through personnel and public outreach. On the island, this includes the extra hours that have been required at the wharf, pier and transfer station as well as Island Ambassadors who will support safe practices at larger group gathering places such as the school playground, the Transfer Station, Cousins Island, the Stone Pier and Chandler’s Wharf, as well as the market and public beaches. Eliza Jane Adams will serve as the Covid Coordinator and Erika Neumann as the Covid Communications Officer. For any questions, please email townofchebeaguecovid19@gmail.com.

STAYING SAFE ON THE ISLAND

Maine has been successful flattening the curve to eventually stop the spread of Covid-19. As of this publication, Maine’s positivity rate is 0.47%, making us the lowest rate in the United States according to Johns Hopkins University Coronavirus Resource Center. We need to keep vigilant, and help Maine hold ground and keep Chebeague safe. As Dr. Nirav Shah says “the virus is everywhere.” To date, we have had no reported Covid-19 reported deaths. Also, there has been no outbreak (the definition of an outbreak is 3 cases linked directly to one another.)

That said, on July 4th, Chebeague had a high profile incident of Covid-19 infection. More than 30 people were tested. The island community came together to stem an outbreak with testing, tracing and quarantines. To date, only 5 Covid-19 cases have been publicly reported on Chebeague, with all successfully recovered or recovering.

A smaller than normal number of Summer residents have returned. Many have successfully quarantined, or came within the Governor of Maine’s “Know Before You Go” order which requires proof of a negative Covid-19 test (within 72 hours of arrival). It has been a quiet Summer on Chebeague. Many long-time Summer friends have not come at all. We miss those island residents and friends. We look forward to a time in the future to mend the stress and harmed relationships caused by the pandemic, the reaction to it and the shifting policies towards Covid-19.

As of this publication, the following states do not require a 14 day quarantine upon arrival to Maine due to comparable low positivity rates: Connecticut, New Jersey, New Hampshire, New York and Vermont. Residents from all other states are required to quarantine for 14 days upon arrival to Chebeague Island or have proof of a negative Covid-19 test within 72 hours of arrival.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FEEL SICK AND 911

If You Think You May Be Sick With COVID-19, please call your primary care provider if you have any combination of the Covid-19 symptoms: fever, dry cough, shortness of breath, fatigue or loss of smell and taste. Your provider is likely to recommend that you stay home, self-monitor and self-isolate as long as your symptoms do not require emergency care. This puts the fewest people at risk of contracting the highly contagious virus. If you have an emergency, as always, DIAL 911. The Chebeague Island Emergency Medical Service (EMS) and Fire & Rescue are equipped and ready for all 911 calls.

If you do not have a provider, call 211 and they will find a healthcare professional and related social services to assist you. In addition, the CDC has extensive resources for any coronavirus questions and is the trusted source of information. The State of Maine maintains a list of approved mainland Covid-19 Testing facilities.

Chebeague Covid Testing Team (CCTT) is a safe, reliable on-island option for testing if you think you have been exposed to someone currently with Covid-19 or you are exhibiting symptoms and do not want to risk leaving the island. The CCTT was set up by a volunteer group of medical professionals who will come to your home, and safely guide you through a self-administered “swab and send” test. CCTT viral samples are processed through the State of Maine lab. Test results are being returned in 72 hours or less. For more information, text Dr. Kip Webb, Dr. Jim Cox-Chapman or Jenny Hackel, R.N. at 347-656-7524. CCTT does not provide ongoing medical care. However, the island volunteer professionals are a resource for questions about Covid-19 and for high risk testing. There is no charge for testing. To date, CCTT has responded to more than 60 calls for advice, tested 45 people and acted as a support to the 5 positive and recovered or recovering patients.

Mental Health If you, or someone you love is concerned about mental health or are experiencing anxiety, depression or any other emotional health issues, you have many resources. Maine’s 211 can link you 24/7 to social services and support programs including mental health. Click here for a list of resources at the local and state level to support you. You are not alone. Some Chebeaguers with mental health backgrounds can offer you an ear, or help you find the right kind of help including: Melissa Yosua Davis, Eliza Jane Adams, Lola Armstrong, Janna Hobbs, Michael Hollander, Sarah McKinnon, Jackie Trask, Betts Mayer, Vika Johnson Wood and Tracy Calder to name a few.

The Island Council’s Wellness Center is open for routine care. Dr. Heidi Larson, a Family Practice doctor will see patients of all ages. Masks required. If you are concerned that you may have Covid-19 symptoms, have a known exposure, or want Covid-19 testing, please do not come to the Wellness Center. Please call your physician or call Dr. Larson directly at 233-2502 to discuss testing and follow up care.

GETTING TO THE ISLAND

Seasonal homeowners, workers traveling to Maine, and other visitors may utilize a recent negative COVID-19 test as an alternative to the required 14-day quarantine in Maine.

How to Quarantine on Chebeague, a helpful chart outlining the specifics of self quarantine including what island activities are safely permitted during a 14-day quarantine.

Chebeague Transportation Co. (CTC) Visit the CTC COVID website to sign up for emails and texts on fast changing COVID-19 updates, reduced schedules, and changes to CTC COVID-19 safety procedures for crew and passengers. Masks are mandatory and boats are limited to ensure social distancing. The CTC has the highest level of precautions and safety for passengers and crew. All updates and schedules are posted at the very top of their home page (www.chebeaguetrans.com). Please read the August 9th Frequently Asked Questions for details of the CTC coronavirus response.

For those coming to the island from out-of-state, the CTC offers barging to travel to the island safely for those who plan to quarantine upon arrival. Contact the office (846-3700) for more information. Again, please sign up on their website for the latest, as things are swiftly changing. Stay in the loop and travel safely.
